

MultiNational Group Benefit Plan

Health Coverage that Goes Far & Beyond

Why Buy an International Group Benefit Program?

US-based organizations with employees overseas or non-US organizations employing expatriates, third country nationals or key local nationals need a dependable and cost-effective international group benefit program.

Outside the United States, American employees find their traditional group benefit programs to be insufficient, in benefits and in service, for the unique situations facing them as they seek healthcare abroad. Third country nationals and key local nationals find that their home country social medical systems rarely extend beyond the country's borders, and the availability of medical facilities within those borders may be extremely limited.

As international employers seek to compete in global markets, the challenge of attracting and retaining qualified international employees can only be met with a comprehensive international group benefit program. The MultiNational Group Benefit Plan has been designed to fill this need.
