

eGlobalHealth.com Celebrates 10 Years Online in Global Special Risk Insurance Market

For 10 years, this 2012, Derek Patterson and eGlobalHealth Insurers Agency, LLC, have been assisting their clients globally in all corners of the world with their special risk insurance needs. eGlobalHealth.com offers online access to all special risk markets including but not limited to travel medical, health, international accident and term life insurance, disability insurance and other markets such as Defense Base Act insurance and foreign general liability coverages.

(OPENPRESS) January 1, 2012 -- eGlobalHealth Insurers Agency, LLC, operating online at www.eGlobalHealth.com and via various other domain locations on the web, is celebrating an industry milestone by entering their 10th year online in 2012.

Derek Patterson, lead broker and managing member, states "From our family beginnings in the insurance industry in 1941, having brought over 70 years experience as a third generation insurance broker, our level of service and scope of reach globally is considered to be one of the best this special risk insurance market has seen in this past decade".

Mr. Patterson started www.eGlobalHealth.com in 2002 with simple access in mind to basic programs catering to the business and leisure traveler and missionary markets globally. Very rapidly from there, the online special risk brokerage agency has grown exponentially into one of the worlds top rated online special risk brokerage addresses on the net.

"I attribute our continued success and growth to the fact that our level of personal service to our client is second to none in this industry. We've learned early on that to stand out, you must take care of your clients and be there 'in person', on the phone and with quick follow up by email, to answer any questions and to provide consultation often. We have helped revolutionize the online special risk insurance brokerage industry with our online chat service which allows us direct access to chat with our clients worldwide in real time", Derek Patterson notes.

As a true independent special risk market insurance brokerage agency, eGlobaHealth affiliated web portals provide a wide range of carrier options for such programs ranging from general travel business and leisure health and life insurance needs, to all types of options for global expat needs living and residing abroad to high risk needs in the area of Defense Base Act (DBA) workers compensation, foreign general liability, war/ terrorism risk insurance and kidnap, ransom insurance programs, to name just a few. All of their carriers are A rated or better and consist of USA insurance markets or certain underwriters at Lloyds, London.
